myPROBIOTIC PEEL Kits
Naturally Renew Skin

By Sarah Franz, Wheeler, Contributing Editor

Two new chemical peels and innovative skin products from myprobiotic skinceuticals (Phoenix, Ariz.) are providing ideal, effective, non-invasive alternatives for patients seeking glowing, healthy skin with immediate results and no downtime. The proprietary components of the myPROBIOTIC PEEL Kits offer targeted treatment for premature aging and uneven texture, reduction of fine lines and wrinkles, as well as repair and condition of acne skin types.

myPROBIOTIC PEELs feature distinct formulas in the delivery of "good" bacteria - probiotics - which trick the skin into thinking it is under attack by harmful bacteria. Topical application of probiotics actually toll-like receptors which are a type of pattern recognition receptors (PRRs). Since the skin is a large organ with significant immunological potential, it responds to the application of probiotics with dynamic inflammatory and renewal effects. This collection of PRRs promotes the skin by triggering important immune cell responses that stimulate dermal and epidermal skin cells.

myPROBIOTIC PEELs for Acne Feature Specialized Chemical Treatments which Enable Probiotics to Pass Through the Skin Barriers and Entrain the Origin of Acne Skin

In comparison to traditional, non-chemical peels, myPROBIOTIC PEEL Kits feature specialized chemical treatments which enable probiotics to pass through the skin without being neutralized. From there, probiotics, in reactions begin. Traditional chemical peels follow a "burn and throw away" approach noted Dr. Friedrich. Conversely, myPROBIOTIC PEELS work on a subclinical level to safely and effectively stimulate the skin's own innate processes, thereby initiating healing and accelerated tissue response.

The myPROBIOTIC PEEL Kits feature unique applications, in addition to Pre Peel and Prep Peels, which among other faster and more precise peel application. The Prep Pees is the same in the face and uses lactic acid (coconut oil) to help maintain moisture; hence not extract to prevent dryness and produce—which is a barrier for accelerated penetration. The Anti-Aging Prep Kit the Acne Clarifying Prep Kit contain special chemical concentrations designed to achieve effective results via deep dermal penetration, cell renewal and accelerated tissue healing.

"From a practical standpoint, I like the fact that everything is right and the positive changes in the myPROBIOTIC peel is contained in the kit," Dr. Gutheil noted. "It makes application very consistent and there is no complicated TECH that shows skin a barrier or protective barrier of making a mistake.

In general, myPROBIOTIC PEELs deliver a consistent, service, since myPROBIOTIC PEEL is easy to perform and even trained personnel. The skin tan is able to be made in back bar products because everything is included in the kit and goes home with the patient," Dr. Gutheil continued. "Of all, our patients feel like we are giving them a special bonus when they receive the five day supply of areline of products that help ensure the positive effects of the peel."

"My patients are optimistic about the process and we are satisfied with the results," reported Dr. Friedrich. "In the past, we have had the mindset that skin care is ineffective, but now we have a more positive outlook because we have been shown that skin care does work.

In general, the myPROBIOTIC PEEL is easy to perform and everyone trained personnel. The skin tone is able to be made in back bar products because everything is included in the kit and goes home with the patient."
